Relief Fund Drive Opens Here Friday

Two Weeks' Campaign For Red Cross Fund Starts Auspiciously

Striving to retain the membership record set last year, and to meet the quota of more than $6000 set by the new budget, the Sierra Madre chapter of the American Red Cross will commence its annual Roll Call and drive for memberships and subscriptions on Armistice Day. Continuing through the two weeks until Thanksgiving Day, the drive's daily progress is to be noted by a unique recording device set up in front of the Pacific Electric depot. On this device, a heart-shaped indicator will climb up the rungs of a ladder, each rung denoting a $500 increase.

According to Chairman W. R. Humphries, Sierra Madre last year held the record as having the highest percentage of memberships of any city south of Palo Alto. The percentage of the 3950 population here was 14.09 percent as compared with Monrovia's 6.38 percent and Pasadena's 7.39 percent.

Growing Gallery Watches Matches In Tennis Round Robin

Increasingly large galleries testify to the popularity of the local tennis round-robin, both from the spectators' and the players' viewpoint. Despite the weekend football games and other distractions, many have been on hand the past Saturdays and Sundays to see the interesting matches that are scheduled throughout each of those days.

VOLUNTEERS ASKED FOR BY THE RED CROSS

Because of the appeal for help that it contains, THE NEWS passes on to its readers the following letter from the Chairman of the local Red Cross chapter:

Editor, Sierra Madre News:

My dear Mr. Goshorn: This is to thank you again for your kind offer of support and cooperation in the coming Red Cross roll-call for membership and donations to carry on the local relief work in our community.

The election is over; the returns are in. What we need now are 20 volunteers who will work for the cause of humanity at hand as they did for their respective political parties. Sierra Madre has always responded in a most generous and wonderful way and I would like to take this opportunity to thank the 752 people who made the past year's program possible and to ask for continued support that the work of administering local relief can be carried on for another year.

Anyone wishing to volunteer in the way of soliciting donations and memberships can offer their services in person at Red Cross Headquarters or by phoning 309.

Again, thanking you, I am yours very sincerely,

W. R. HUMPHRIES, Chairman, Sierra Madre Red Cross.

ARMISTICE DAY

BLOW your bugles . . . beat the drums, for Armistice is here, And long we've had our heroes home, With nothing more to fear, Some bravely fought and hoped and prayed, And gave their gallant all; They passed beyond without a moan When death sent out its call, Because the bitter war is done And we have peace at last, Let's raise our prayers to God on high For HEROES who have passed.

Start Work On History Of The City

Citizens Are Asked To Help In Collection Of Data, Pictures And Relics

An invitation to the people of Sierra Madre to join in the preparation of a history of the city and the creation of a historical museum has gone out through the Historical Society over the signature of William Lauren Rhoades, chairman of the committee designated by the Society to undertake the task.

Personal experiences of historical events, stories of early pioneers, all manner of photographs of people, places and things, together with relics of every kind are asked for. They are to be brought together, filed and exhibited in quarters provided at the grammar school building for the proposed museum.

Santa's Assistants Are Bears For Work; More Toys Needed

Any night between now and Christmas even Santa Claus may be seen in informal and beardless garb pounding, painting and soldering in his Toy Shop across from the City Hall on Central avenue. In fact he does all these tasks at once, being as he is in fact incarnated in the forms of about 20 volunteer firemen and as many of their wives.

LOYALTY SUNDAY TO BE OBSERVED BY CHURCH MEMBERSHIP

Sunday, November 20 has been selected by the Congregational Church as Loyalty Sunday. On this day following the annual custom a full attendance of members at both Sunday School and Church will be urged.

At that time plans for the future will be presented, the pastor will preach on "Many Links, but One Chain," and by a unique service each member will make his pledge to the church for the coming year.

Armistice Day Party To Be Big Event

Eight Prizes For Dancers And Those Who Play Bridge And 500 Well

Norman Jensen

From the manner in which tickets are going and the way every one is talking about the event, it looks as though Friday's "Depression Frolic," sponsored by the local American Legion Post and the Auxiliary at the Woman's Clubhouse on Friday evening will be about the biggest affair ever held in Sierra Madre.

And no one will be disappointed. Every essential and detail for the making of a good time has been brought together. Certainly there will be no formality to hold anyone back. Its one affair that one's apparel won't have to be carefully selected for, unless they are hoping to pick off one of the four prizes for the seediest and most original get-up. A few days growth of beard by the men would really rather help on this occasion.

The snappy American Legion orchestra of 15 pieces will supply music for the gliders. Everyone who heard the excellent music this orchestra furnished at a park concert this summer will want to step out on the floor when the leader swings his baton. But for those who don't want to dance there will be card games—bridge and 500. And there will be four prizes for the players.

The eight prizes will be useful, worthwhile gifts. The Auxiliary will dispense the refreshments and the punch will flow as freely as water. Since the affair is to be known as a "Depression Frolic" the price has been made to correspond with the event. What I mean is that the admission will be 35 instead of 50 cents and everyone will have five dollars worth of fun.

Bond Bunco Man Who Worked Here Files Guilty Plea

Chief of Police Gordon MacMillan has returned from Stockton where he went to testify at the trial of Edward Arden, 25, who some weeks ago attempted a bond bunco deal on a Hermosa street woman here, and later was apprehended on the same charges in the northern city. Arden changed his plea to guilty at the last minute, MacMillan states, and asked for probation. Hearing on his request was set for next Monday. It is doubtful whether Arden will be granted probation in light of the fact that first it would be necessary for all other charges against him to be dropped and authorities here have no intention of forgetting his activity in this city.

"HEAVILY ARMED" BOYS WITH "BORROWED" CAR ARE ARRESTED HERE

Brandishing cap-pistols, and whooping it up with suspicious enthusiasm, two 15 year old boys, who had "borrowed" a Ford truck in Pasadena Saturday night, got as far as Sierra Madre, and here their joyride ended.

H. Hoover Juniors Vote And Fly Away To Meet President

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hoover Jr., cast their first votes in Sierra Madre at their district polling place, West Grand View avenue, early Tuesday morning, were photographed, greeted a few of their new neighbors, and immediately drove to the Glendale airport where they stepped aboard a plane bound for San Francisco. The couple met President Hoover and his party at noon in Palo Alto, in time for lunch at the Hoover home there.

'Prof,' A Chicken Thief, Disappears From Grade School

Wanted, by school authorities—the man, woman, child or spirit who stole, freed, or otherwise did away with "Professor," the great horned owl who for a brief time did reside at the local grammar school with a chain around one foot, looking at the world through chicken wire bars.

City Votes For Hoover, Booze, Its Regulation, And For Rev. Mr. Shuler

Gives Mild Disapproval Of Race Track Betting And Prize Fighting, But Emphatically Snacks Down Proposals To Tamper With Anything That Concerns Taxes—

Sierra Madre clung to its Republican moorings by a margin of 88 votes in Tuesday's Nation-wide political storm, observing its traditions insofar as the head of the ticket was concerned.

But the city went for Shuler, Prohibition candidate for the United States Senatorship, who had a plurality of 10 over McAdoo, Democrat, and 49 over Tubbs, Republican.

And then it voted by a majority of 197 in favor of repeal of the Wright prohibition enforcement act and by a majority of 91 in favor of the Constitutional amendment giving the State control of the liquor traffic if and when it is legalized by modification of the Federal (Volstead) law or repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

After its debacle on the liquor issue, the city slipped back into the path of the straight and narrow and registered a majority of 66 against the proposition to legalize betting on horse races. And, still holding up its hands in holy horror, it gave a bare majority of 32 against amendments to the law legalizing prize fights.

Much more emphatically the city went on record as disapproving judges who bring the ermine under suspicion, giving substantial majorities in favor of the recall of Superior Court Judges Fleming, Guerin and Stafford.

In a general way Sierra Madre voted for adoption of 10 and rejection of 10 of the 20 initiative measures that appeared on the ballot. The 10 that were approved here were No. 1, the Wright act repealer; No. 2, State regulation of the liquor traffic; No. 8, initiative and referendum; No. 10, allowing the city of Escondido to hold stock in its mutual water company; No. 12, allowing the City of Glendale to adjudicate improvement assessments; No. 14, continuing the exemption of California registered shipping from taxation; No. 15, permitting the Metropolitan Water district to follow the example of cities in the deposit of public funds; No. 16, providing for the cancellation of tax liens unenforced for 30 years; No. 17, affecting city charters in cities of over 50,000 population; No. 18, allowing county boards of supervisors to draft county charters.

The ten propositions negated here were No. 3, proposing to abolish trust deeds in favor of mortgages; No. 4, allowing the State to divert 50 per cent of its share of the gasoline tax to its general fund; No. 5, legalizing race track betting by the sale of pari mutuels; No. 6, extending the tax exemption of war veterans; No. 7, permitting an increase in expenses of the legislature; No. 9, requiring the legislature to provide for State income and sales taxes; No. 11, permitting the City of Huntington Beach to drill for oil on a narrow strip of its water front; No. 13, amending the law legalizing prize fights; No. 19, amending city charter provisions to permit of experiments in the nomination and election of city officials; No. 20, allowing similar procedure in the matter of county officials.

Disapproval of the citizenry was emphatically expressed against two of the most discussed initiative proposals—No. 3 proposing to abolish the trust deed in favor of the mortgage and No. 9 that, under the guise of an effort to saddle a lot of the local tax for public school maintenance upon the State, would actually have required the Assembly to pass laws calling for the collection of State income and sales taxes.

A majority of 830 was registered against Proposition No. 3 and of 708 against No. 9.

Sierra Madre joined in an endorsement of all the sitting Superior Court judges, excepting those affected by the recall, and gave a majority of 390 for Judge White, against whom a particularly venomous fight had been waged.

Disapproval of the citizenry was emphatically expressed against two of the most discussed initiative proposals—No. 3 proposing to abolish the trust deed in favor of the mortgage and No. 9 that, under the guise of an effort to saddle a lot of the local tax for public school maintenance upon the State, would actually have required the Assembly to pass laws calling for the collection of State income and sales taxes.

MAYOR'S FAMILY WAS 2 TO 1 FOR PRESIDENT

It seems that, prior to election time, the H. Clay Reavis family was split into two political camps. The Mayor was committed to Hoover and his wife to Roosevelt. So it was with a great deal of pride that the Mayor informed listeners on election day that "Junior voted Republican in his school election . . . He always strings with me in politics!"

TWO NOTABLE FILMS AT LYRIC THEATRE

"Smilin' Through," the feature attraction now at the Lyric, presents Norma Shearer as its star, and one of the most brilliant supporting casts yet assembled for the speaking screen.

Miss Shearer in the feminine lead follows in the footsteps of Jane Cowl, who achieved one of her greatest successes in the record-breaking New York stage run of the play. Opposite her is Fredric March.

Second on the program is the most popular of western stars, Tom Mix, with his wonder horse, Tony, in "Hidden Gold."

"A Successful Calamity" which opens Sunday at the Lyric, presents George Arliss, the celebrated star, in the role of an American financier of international reputation who finds his millions keeping his family away from him.

Although the entire program is dominated by the character portrayed by Arliss, the supporting cast is even more noteworthy than previous ones seen in the Arliss pictures.

Also on this program will be seen "Night After Night," with George Raft, Constance Cummings, and Alison Skipworth.

FORMER BANDIT IS COMING TO BETHANY

Bill Stiles, who is now elderly but is the last of the infamous Jesse James and Younger Brothers' gangs will be in town on Sunday evening. He was a young pickpocket in New York City and later came westward and joined the James and Younger Brothers' gang. He was with the gang in the well-known Northfield robbery.

Next Sunday evening Mr. Stiles is to be at Bethany church as the speaker at the regular meeting of Bethany Young People. All young people are cordially invited.

Local Playwright Answers Criticism Of His Brain Child

Sierra Madre, Calif., November 9, 1932.

The Editor,
Sierra Madre News:

It has come to my attention that some unfavorable criticism has been directed toward the Sierra Madre Community Players for presenting a morally objectionable play in my comedy "The Captive Man."

From my own point of view, the principal effect of such criticism is to reveal to me that this is a much smaller town than I had supposed. It offers the opportunity, however, to say something which I failed to say in my certain talk; namely, to pay tribute to the courage of the Players and their President in presenting a new play, the mechanism of which has not been tested by numerous prior performances. Such an undertaking is a task which is feared and avoided by practically all commercial managers in this part of the country.

Our local organization, in casting off the fetters of fear and going ahead to a fairly successful culmination, achieved something which places them far above the majority of community organizations and, in a sense, above the commercial producers of Los Angeles.

Personally, I am pleased and even flattered by the trend of the gossip. To any modern mind, "The Captive Man" is a very innocent little comedy. If there are people living who are sufficiently mid-victorian in viewpoint to be shocked by it, so much the better. The shock will certainly not hurt them, and it gives them something to talk about.

But as to the charge of immorality: Phooey! For those in search of real immorality, I recommend the Book of Genesis.

HENRY G. COULTER.

IN YOUR GARDEN

EVERYONE CAN HAVE A HOME PICNIC CORNER

WHO DOES NOT enjoy a picnic? Especially during the fall months when the first cool days bring relief from summer's heat. It's an inborn instinct—this urge to get out into the open and spread the family feast where nature affords the setting. Who wants to shut themselves up for the winter when the first frost comes and the leaves glow with warm autumn colors? Everybody knows the trials and tribulations of the picnic in the country. How often you have hiked for miles through the woods or driven long distances over hot, dusty roads seeking a spot to of your home plot—somewhere in it there is a place for a picnic "corner" like you've always wanted. By a little careful planning and planting of the grounds about your home you can have all the joys and surroundings of a picnic in the woods. Cool shade of sheltering trees, a soft carpet of fresh, green grass underfoot, the fragrance and color of a thousand blossoms, birds and bees, nature and the open air—who would wish for more than this for a picnic site? And all right at home in easy access to the kitchen!

Every well-planted lawn with a corner shut off from the view of passersby is a picnic ground de luxe. And there's this much spread your picnic feast only to find every desirable place already occupied. Then, too, there is always the possibility of being held for trespassing on private ground.

Haven't it ever occurred to you how foolish it is to go through with all these things just for the sake of a picnic, when you might enjoy all the fun of a picnic right at home without them? No matter what the character about a place to picnic at home—regardless of the season it is always at hand and you can have your little "spread" at a moment's notice, whether it be family meal, afternoon tea, or bridge party.

Start planning now to plant this fall so that you will have your own private "picnic corner" as a permanent feature on your grounds.

Latest Book Hits Come To Shelves Of The Local Library

There are now 1,500 active card holders patronizing the Sierra Madre public library it is seen by the October monthly report released yesterday by Miss Eva Moore, librarian. And there is cause for all of them to be well satisfied with the new books which have been added to the shelves within the past month.

First in importance comes John Galsworthy's latest book, "Worshipful Society." Then there is Sherwood Anderson's "Beyond Desire." For the play lover—Burns Mantle's 1931-32 collection of the best plays produced in that period. The mystery book reader should like Oppenheim's "Osterkoff Jewels." For California readers especially, there is Morrow's "Beyond the Blue Sierra."

With a gain of nine percent over the preceding month the adult circulation for October was 4397, and the juvenile 663. Of the total of 5060 circulation 57 percent was fiction, 29 percent non-fiction, and the rest juvenile.

Here is a complete list of the latest additions to the library shelves:

Fiction: "Uncharted Seas," Loring; "Inheritance," Bentley; "Worshipful Society," Galsworthy; "Gilded Halo," Hamilton; "Uncle Bill," James; "Osterkoff Jewels," Oppenheim; "Ann Boleyn," Barrington; "Treehaven," Norris; "Beyond the Blue Sierra," Morrow; "Egyptian Cross Mystery," Queen; "Josephus," Feuchtmayer; "Smith," Deeping; "Robin Hill," Larimore; "Beyond Desire," Anderson.

Non-Fiction: "Bloody Years," Yeats Brown; "Gold in Them Hills," Glasscock; "Mark Twain's America," DeVoto; "Sitting Bull," Vestal; "Scientific Dream Book," Westfield; "Best Plays of 1931-32," Mantle; "In Search of Wales," Morton; "Leather Dollars," Packman; "Discretions and Indiscretions," Duff-Gordon.

Right Place to Economize

By RALPH H. TAYLOR
Sec. Agricultural Legislative Committee of California

ALL GOVERNMENT, like all that can be divided into three parts—necessary, desirable and plainly political, in the opinion of State Controller Ray L. Riley, one of the leaders in the fight for governmental reformation.

The "necessary" and "desirable" functions of government, Riley believes, are both justified under normal conditions, but the spread of the purely "desirable," not absolutely essential functions, should always be subjected to a tight check-rein.

There is undoubted merit in the belief, that California citizens, if they wish to achieve lasting economy in government, must get down to fundamentals—acquire a sound political philosophy. Instead of slashing desperately during periods of extremity, and disregarding government during periods of prosperity, they should determine:

1—What they need and must have, the absolute essentials of an orderly society.

2—What they want, but could get along without, and whether they can afford it.

3—And, finally, the necessary measures for effecting the type of sane, business-like government they have determined upon.

Only by this manner of intelligent, rational approach to the problem, says Riley, can there be any guarantee of economy which is actually economical. Too often, under the hit-or-miss plan of cuts, he finds that "necessary" government suffers, while the merely "desirable" and the "plainly political" wings remain intact, or at least are only mildly modified.

"LIFE BEGINS" NEXT TOWER ATTRACTION

Motherhood comes in for its share of glory in "Life Begins" which opens at the Tower Theatre in Pasadena on Saturday.

This play, adapted from the stage success, is an intimate study of life in a hospital's maternity ward. It carries its dramatic punch not in one story but in the stories of several women. A condemned murderess, a pleasure loving girl, a member of the "intelligentsia," a young Italian woman, a psychopathic case and several other varied characters each detail their life stories.

Due to the importance attached to each character, a cast was carefully chosen which combines some of the finest of performers, Young, Eric Linden, Aline MacMahon, Preston Foster, Glenda Farrell, Dorothy Peterson, Frank McHugh, Vivienne Osborn and many others.

Showing for the final times tomorrow is the screen's latest newsworthy, Ruth Chatterton and George Brent in "The Crash."

and park cemeteries, etc. Also gather any old furniture with an interest history.

Besides giving your personal experiences of historical events, where it is possible secure stories of the early pioneers, of their crossing the country and their first impressions of the country. Be sure to give their full names and family connections, so that the records will have a real historical value to those who, in later years, may wish to trace families. Check all dates, names and events carefully as this will make the collection valuable to future historians.

All articles must have the history attached and the name of the donor and all pictures must bear the name of the person. These will be acknowledged in writing so the donor will have a record of presenting them to the Society and thus show what disposition was made of them for their family. There articles are to be given to Miss Steinberger, school superintendent.

"Any information can be secured by getting in touch with the committee in charge of Mrs. Fred Griebel and Miss Marion L. Vannier or myself. The following is important: all events or articles must be dated prior to 1906."

Hot Lead

By Norman B. Jensen

THERE IS NO doubt about it. The Armistice Night Frolic will be a success. It will be a WOW. You can't come without having a good time, you don't even need a sense of humor.

Everyone is getting ready for a big laugh. In fact, everyone is laughing already because hundreds of people are planning their costumes and talking about them and they can't even think about how comical they will look without laughing. If you can't laugh, we advise you not to come. It will be amusing, ridiculous, side-splitting and entertaining. Don't miss it.

The tickets allotted to Sierra Madre for the U.C.L.A.-St. Mary's game at the Olympic Stadium are all sold out. Those deciding to go the last minute must buy their tickets at the stadium.

A report from those who visited our old reliable "Barnacle" Ben Stumman at the Naval Hospital in San Diego, is very encouraging. Comrade Stumman is getting along nicely and has improved considerably and we hope he will soon be back with us.

It took two of our "Big Shots" to substitute for "Barnacle" Ben last night in the "Gallery." Comrade Commander Ray Caukin and Comrade "Les" Layton both had their coats off and we admit they did a good job of serving 'cause everyone went away satisfied.

Comrade Col. Hersey stressed the necessity for everyone to get his membership paid up for 1933 as our responsibility to our comrades will be greater this year than ever before.

Sierra Madre Post 297 will be host to the 18th District on Friday, November 18. Comrade Fleming, chairman of the House Committee, will be in charge and a large committee was appointed to assist in the entertainment. This is the only District meeting Sierra Madre will have this year and it is up to us to turn out full force.

Last Sunday was our day at the U.S. Veterans' Hospital in San Fernando. Commander Caukin and his delegation took over 12 jars of jam, two pint Thermos bottles (empty), 35 decks of playing cards, 55 magazines, 16 books, 12 corn cob pipes, a carton of chewing gum and two bags of old silk stockings which the boys use in weaving. Several of the comrades and ladies stopped to see Comrade "Bobbie" Walker and report that she is getting along fine since she left the hospital.

The first aerial roundup of 1933 membership cards to go by plane to San Francisco this year will be on Sunday, November 13. Pilots from all sections of the state will pick up membership cards at designated points and fly with them to the area field from where they will be transferred to a plane bound for San Francisco. Everyone is anxious to see this district make a good showing.

TIN CAN GLORIFIED AT HOUSEHOLD SHOW

Kitchens of grandma's days will be venerated but not recommended at the eighth annual Food and Household Show, which the Southern California Retail Grocers' Association will stage in the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, for six days starting on Monday, November 14th.

Instead of operating the kitchen by hand, it will be shown that the modern housewife is living in a machine age. The humble tin can and the package grocery product are to be exalted to a high position of honor, and every short cut to quicker meals with less effort was reported on the program.

MACLAREN WILL HELP ROGERS BOSS A RODEO

Alexander MacLaren of the Sierra Madre Hotel, a member of the advisory board of the Chuck Wagon Trailers, will have charge of 300 Indians at a rodeo to be given by the Trailers on November 18, 19 and 20 at Wilshire and Fairfax, Los Angeles. The proceeds of the affair will be given to the Parent-Teachers' Association Milk Fund. Will Rogers will announce the opening show.

Housing Of Art League Wins Favor

Petitions For Use Of Quarters In School Building Being Freely Signed

By Henry Ivins Hawchurst

From every indication it will take more than a presidential election and a National holiday coming so close together, to dampen the ardor of the many who are anxious to see our Art League comfortably housed.

You'd arrive at this conclusion if you took a look at the petitions in circulation addressed to our school board and requesting that room be provided there for the Art League classes. I find, however, that some people are under the impression that they must be registered members of the League in order to be a petitioner. It is only necessary that you be a member of the community, interested in its welfare.

Among the several who will circulate petitions is Mrs. J. Milton Steinberger whose indefatigable efforts made our community players a vibrating reality. Personally I am mighty grateful to this dynamic little woman for her assistance. You know it requires a lot more steam than hot air to put over any movement—or run a locomotive.

We desire to present the petition to the school board as soon as possible and for your convenience we have arranged to have one at The NEWS office and another at the City Hall, available to everyone who may have been unable to sign those now in circulation.

So let's get going and hasten to include your name among the fast growing list of petitioners.

MISSOURIANS TO PICNIC

Every Missourian is included in a call to the big annual fall picnic reunion under the auspices of the Missouri State Society of Southern California, to be held in Sycamore Grove Park, Los Angeles, all day, Saturday, November 12. The program of song and oratory will be brief and will follow the dinner hour. It will be in charge of President S. A. Seelman.

SELECT PRINCIPALS TO SING PAGLIACCI

"Pagliacci" by Leoncavallo will be the offering of the San Gabriel Valley Opera Reading Club at the meeting on Friday, the 18th of this month, at 10 a.m. in the Monrovia Woman's Club House. The role of Nedda will be sung by Jean Colwell Houghton. Fred Scott, well known tenor and a favorite of the club in former opera readings, will sing Canio. William Machin, baritone, making his first appearance before the club, will have the part of Tonio.

A. L. A. Activities

By Dorothy Shetler

COMRADE BEN STINMAN, convalescing at the San Diego Hospital, had some visitors last Sunday. Mrs. Leila Embree limousined down that-a-way with Mrs. Ben (Orcelia) Stinman and Miss Minnie Stinman.

Same Sunday but the scene is shifted. Mrs. ex-Gob Pickett, Mrs. Ray Calkin, Mrs. Austin (Charley) Taylor and Mrs. Champion Ticket-Seller. Roy journeyed to the San Fernando Hospital and vicinity, for it was Sierra Madre Book Day. Mrs. Pickett got as far as the Lovejoy abode, the others going on to the Hospital, where a call was made on Nettie Walker, War Nurse, at one time a resident of Sierra Madre.

Twenty-one ladies were present last Saturday afternoon at the initiation and installation of the Junior A.L.A. The last report is that there are 15 girls as members and rarin' to make their Legionnaire dads and Auxiliary mamas sit up and take notice of the new organization. Their first step to show their pep will be a Pot-Luck Supper on Thursday, November 17, from 5:30 to 7 p.m. in the City Hall basement. Everyone is welcome. A small admission and a covered dish is the fee. Phone Mrs. Roy Pickett or see Miss Marjorie Stinman for particulars. Be there and give the girls a break on their first undertaking.

Mrs. Lilyan Wheeler is home from her sojourn into the wilds of Los Angeles. She brought company home with her and I bet they are having a perfectly gorgeous time up at Alta Vista Drive.

Are you a cookie maker? Then see President Barker as she needs 40 dozen cookies for Monday, November 21st at 7:15 p.m. to journey into the realm of Arcadia with about 20 or so A.L.A. members, as body-guards. Why? District Meeting and we're in! And don't let President Barker be it—or One Alone or words to that effect.

Thursday, November 10th at 7:30 p.m. is a big night for the A.L.A. and guests. If you are a stranger, stop at the gate inside the City Hall, listen—for the racket—and come on downstairs. There will be a gang of us to make you welcome. This is a get-together of all members and their eligible for membership guests. There will be only one meeting this month, so let's all go and have a bumper crop, a real overflow meeting. We expect at 8 p.m. to have S.R.O.

And remember girls—fill up the apple baskets with your paid up dues. Bring a buck, you can rent your apple for the time being, and make our quota before November 13 which is Aerial-Pick-Up Day.

The A.L.A. column chauffeuse is grateful that her brain-child "Portraits in Print" merited that poem from the Hot Lead chauffeur. His words are exactly what was meant by my idea; but although I had the tune, some one else had better words.

This time we have with us Junior Past President Lucille Maxwell Pickett. Mrs. Pickett was born at Americus, Kansas. She says the population is 389 since she moved from there. Mrs. Roy (ex-Gob) Pickett showed Yours Truly a school picture of how she looked in her early days at Americus. How?—say didn't ya' ever have your pitcher took when you were ten years old? Well, that's just the way her picture looks. After Lucille took the four yards of ribbon bows off her hair and used a pack of hairpins instead she went to the Kansas State Teachers' College. Just as I thought—another "skule marm."

Lucille Maxwell then taught the little boys and girls readin', writin' n' arithmetic for one year. Next on her program was adding Pickett to her name, and then a trip to California. Mrs. Pickett has been in California eight years and nearly the entire time has been spent in Sierra Madre. 'Twas here she found her three daughters, all native Californians.

Mrs. Pickett is a member of the Congregational Church and the Friendship Club. She is busy in the P.T.A. Her first office in the A.L.A. was Sergeant-at-Arms. Later she was second Vice-President and was a very capable President last year. This year she is Membership Chairman and is she on the job, or is she on the job? You're next!

SHIPPEY SEES GHOST WRITERS PROSPER

Lee Shippey, in a talk before the Pasadena Shakespeare Club last Wednesday, expressed the belief that the newspapers of the future would draw most of their workers from the school classes, and that "ghost writing" offers the best field for the literary man.

"It's getting so now," he said, "that to become a writer a man should first be a champion publicist, or, if a woman, should be able to fly a plane a little higher than any other woman. . . . Today the only place for the true literary man is behind the scenes helping great persons who cannot write. These great people hire the literary man, the ghost, to write the experiences which have made them famous."

Fire Flames

LAST PRACTICE night, while Captain Joe Swanson was grinding his crew through a First Aid Drill, they were suddenly interrupted by the appearance of Don Hosford in a most dilapidated condition. He looked as tho' he had challenged a locomotive.

"Why, why, why, what's happened Don?" asked Captain Joe. "Have you had an accident?"

"No I just bet Steve Petzel he couldn't carry me up a ladder on his back, and I won."

Harlan Gerlach and Harry Scott both like to go deep sea fishing and after hearing them talk so much about it, Jim Heasley decided he would accompany them on their next excursion. On the barge, Jim pulled in the first "mackerel" and immediately made for a bucket of water that was near. "What the heck?" asked Scotty. "The darn thing is still alive," says Jim, "and I haven't got the heart to kill it outright, so I'm going to drown it."

As Mayor Reavis and Chief of Police McMillan are very fond of duck hunting, the two headed for the region of the lakes. At the happy hunting grounds, they met up with a young fellow who declared he could tell them where the ducks were plentiful. He said that in order to take the trip, he would first have to return to his home and get some money so that he could buy some breakfast.

"Oh, that's all right," said "Mac," "I'll forward you the price of breakfast," as he handed the guide his last eight bits. "Yes," said the Mayor, "we would lose a lot of time, so here take my equal share and we'll wait here until you have your breakfast."

To shorten up a long duck story, we'll say that the "guide" left the good hearted officials waiting and had it not been for their own hunger, they would probably be waiting yet. It would have been useless for the men to search for the "culprit" for neither of the officers had either a uniform or a badge on their person.

A fire call to Cypress Court last Saturday was not a false alarm, but the fire was out when the trucks arrived, due to the good work of the neighbors. The trucks were there in good time, however, and it was no mistake to send an alarm. "It's better to be safe than sorry."

PTA To Vote On Changes In By-laws

Important Measures Come Before Meeting Of Association On Wednesday

By Mrs. W. O. Preston

There are several very important items of business to come up before the next regular business meeting of the P.T.A. which will be held Wednesday afternoon, November 16th, at 2:30 in the school auditorium.

For the convenience of the organization it has been found necessary to revise the bylaws and the board met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. W. C. Dalzell, the parliamentarian, to write the changes. The first reading will be given at this meeting next Wednesday and the voting will be held at the December meeting.

The National Congress of Parents and Teachers are at this time discussing the advisability of changing the fiscal year to begin in March instead of July and electing the new officers at that time. Each association is requested to discuss the idea and report its decision.

As there are several other very important matters to decide each member is requested to bring her receipt for membership dues as only members may be allowed to vote on some of the issues.

The program chairman has decided because of the length of the business, to dispense with any other program at this meeting.

Although this Friday is the regular day for the children's motion picture show there will none given on account of the holiday. Also the Mothers' Chorus will not meet.

Local Sport Paragraphs

By John Copeland

IN KEEPING with the football upsets here, there, and everywhere, the tennis robin springs one in the form of the chief match of the week which was played Sunday. Leaving no doubt in anybody's mind as to who'll come out on top of the heap, Mr. Hiro Kaya took down
Mr. Louis Fuller 6-3, 6-4.

And speaking of the 'breaks'— California should have won that game Saturday about 20-7, or conservatively, 14-13. If Schi-dach had been in there when the ball was on the one yard line, and if after that long one the Bears had tied their passing hands behind their backs.

Dunno if there's any connection, but the eve after that game in which PJC (Sierra Madre) manned, licked LAJC 20-0 or thereabouts, there was a careful of the most godawful noisy football fans or players or something battering around town. More noise than Hallowe'en.

Because Bob Chavis has moved out of town, there's some who will have better standings and some who will be in the hole. Fordubbing in dropping from the tennis tournament all his scores are automatically cancelled, his past opponents gaining a clean slate wherever he is concerned. There may be some, by the way, who are unaware that in defaulting a match they are chalked up with a 3-0, 3-0 defeat.

In PJC's defeat of Glendale JC last Saturday the local players did their bit, per usual. Captain Les Miller made a spectacular catch of a pass on the opposition's eight yard line to score one of the three touchdowns. Jack Young was the second most consistent ground gainer of the day, making 69 yards in 23 attempts. That is more than three yards a play.
McBurney was strong both defensively and offensively in the forward wall.

Not because, but rather in spite of Notre Dame's defeat by Pitt, we stick with the Trojans to win next month. UCLA to take the Red Raiders, and to finish the year undefeated unless Washington catches them off balance.
And Stanford may look droopy right now but wait until they

Victor P. Vetter, Well Known Here, Is Called By Death

As a shock to his many Sierra Madre friends word came Monday of the sudden death of Victor
P. Vetter, aged 36, Chief Dispatcher of the Angelus National Forest and formerly District Patrolman at the First Water station in the Big Santa Anita Canyon. He died at the Golden State Hospital in Los Angeles from what is supposed to have been tubercular meningitis, only a few hours after a collapse at his Pasadena home. For some months he had been failing in health according to friends.

In 1927 Vetter came to the Santa Anita district, and working in cooperation with the firemen here was almost a part of the community life. Fire Chief W. D.
Richards testifies to the fact that every man on the force regarded him as a very likeable, faithful and capable man.

Mr. Vetter was born and educated in Pittsburgh, Pa., where his mother and father now live.
Enlisting in the U.S. Army in 1917 he served until 1919, then entered the forest service as a guard in 1922.

With a quack quack here and a quack quack there, etc., duck season opened last week, thus making Bus Thomas and other local hunters anxious to start out for Salton Sea. Some new laws in effect this season include a ruling that only 30 birds may be in anyone's possession and that the one day limit is 15. No shooting before sunrise either. Also there are several species that are completely protected.

Sunday Sierra Madre baseball players who haven't gotten their fill of the game yet will pile into buggies and go up into the hills to the north of Azusa to see if they cannot get revenge for what the boys at the San Gabriel canyon camp did to them last time.
Some of those convict camps out here should follow Sing-Sing's example and play football. Goody, and in no time South State U and Mugwump Collitch would have scouts right on the spot.

Jack Young, as president of the PJC student body, visited the head of the LAJC student body last week and was dined by the Dean on the campus. Then with no sense of gratitude at all he staged a return visit Saturday and disguised in a football uniform made touchdowns, and otherwise was disagreeable to the Cubs.

Firemen Putting In First Licks For The Wistaria Fete

Despite the fact that the Wistaria Fete won't open for about four months, despite preparations for the big Christmas party and despite the intensive work being carried on in the Toy Shop, the energetic Volunteer Firemen of Sierra Madre are hard at work fixing up the Fennel estate for next year's Wistaria festival.

A new rock wall is being built, the lawn is being extended clear down to the sidewalk, bulbs and spring-blooming flowers are being planted, and the place is being given a general sprucing up.

As Jim Heasley puts it: "Wals-worth's truck was taken to a place where it was loaded with rocks—and the strange thing about this loading was that the smallest men carried the largest rocks."

LATEST NEWCOMERS WELCOMED TO CITY

M. Smith, 273 San Gabriel Court;
John J. Klenner, 265 Mariposa

L E. BEHYMER, one of the country's most successful impresarios, who began his career in the old Hazard Pavilion in Los Angeles, when Fifth and Olive streets was considered on the outskirts of the city, introduced to the women of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club on Wednesday the intimate and humorous side of the musical world.

The first person to be presented by Mr. Behymer in Los Angeles was Black Tom, famous blind pianist, at the Congregational Church, at Third and Hill streets, when the present city was but a village.

Mr. Behymer began his operatic career in 1888 with the American Grand Opera company, introducing Theodore Thomas.

"The cultural side of America has been sadly neglected. We Americans have centered our time and money in commercial improvements. There has been more mileage built in this country than has been built in all the European countries, yet it is to Europe that we must turn for the finer things."

Mr. Behymer pointed out. Sketches of the personal lives of such famous artists as Ernestine Schuman-Heink, Ignace Paderewski, Henry M. Stanley, Johanna Gadsch, Nellie Melba, Hall Johnson, Marion Tally, Lotte Lehmann, Amelita Galli Curci and Amri Galli Campi were brought to an interested audience by Mr. Behymer.

"Nero" which had only one presentation in Los Angeles years ago and which has never been again attempted because of the closing scene, in which not only Rome burned but the stage and the skirts of the chorus, is one of the things which presented problems in the early history of concert stage, Mr. Behymer said.

Much of Mr. Behymer's life was spent, he said, chasing jack rabbits over the foothills, where Sierra Madre has grown. Many years ago he bought property where the city of Monrovia now is.

Mr. Behymer promised to bring Clara Clements, daughter of Mark Twain for presentation to a Los Angeles audience early next year. The Hall Johnson Negro Choir, which won immediate and sensational success in New York, will be presented by him from November 15 to November 20 at the Philharmonic Auditorium. The choir is led by a conductor born and brought up in the center of Georgia, 20 miles from a railroad and where his grandmother, a former slave, taught him to sing the melodies of her childhood as they ought to be sung.

Lotte Lehmann, who has won fame in Germany, her native land, Vienna, France, where she was awarded the decoration of Legion of Honor, and Sweden, will come to Los Angeles in December and Mr. Behymer promises audiences not only an impressive but thrilling program.

Mr. Behymer was introduced following luncheon by Mrs. Myrtle G. Hill, who was dressed as Little Bow Peep in keeping with the morning program presented by Mrs. Helen B. Paulsen.

Mrs. Paulsen, who presented "In Mother Goose's Own Back Yard" is a mother who has a very intimate, sympathetic understanding of the problems and situations of children through all ages to 18 years. Her talk was brimful of the rhymes and characters of Mother Goose, so firmly woven in our early lives, and the opportunities afforded by these rhymes to learn about children.

W. R. Humphries, chairman of the local Red Cross, made a plea for the cooperation of the club in the coming Red Cross drive and explained the local relief problems. He explained the manner in which the money subscribed throughout the past year had been used.

An announcement by Miss Edna R. Green, president, that the executive board has recommended the payment of the yearly club dues in monthly installments at the morning meeting, was explained by Mrs. Bacon and passed by the club.

Final Drive Of GOP Originated With Women Of This Area

Concluding her work in behalf of the Women's Mobilization for Hoover and Curtis, Mrs. Jessica Wright, who was one of the chief organizers of that Republican group, gave a 10-minute talk over radio station KELW Monday morning in which she made a final plea for the women's support of President Hoover.

Mrs. Wright, with the cooperation of Mrs. W. W. Green and Mrs. Walter Thurber, launched the Mobilization and was instrumental in securing an incalculable number of feminine Republican votes through the publicity and information given in Southern California. This particular feature of the Republican campaign, originating in this Assembly district, made a decided hit with the National campaign managers and in the closing week of the contest, was urged upon the local leaders throughout the country.

OLD PUBLIC SQUARE IS TO BE FEATURED BY SAFEWAY STORES

Visualizing in popular songs, old and new, the wholesome and homey atmosphere of the old public square, a brand-new program of radio is to be launched Friday evening, November 18, at 7:45 o'clock. It will be a 15-minute presentation, first of a series of Monday and Friday night programs, and will be broadcast over KFI, Monday programs will start at 7.

"Safeway Square" is the title of the program, and it is being sponsored by Safeway Stores, Inc. This "community singing" feature, it is pointed out, will be unique in that the air audience through participation, will be made an integral part of the broadcast. The "master of ceremonies" will be a song leader.

People Here Vote Under Most Ideal Conditions In Land

No citizens in the land went to the polls on Tuesday under more ideal weather conditions than those of Sierra Madre. And it is doubtful whether any group in the country cast their ballots in more lovely surroundings than the voters of the Third and Fourth precincts of this city. Those of the Fourth district voted in the Park House, while the election in the Third district was held in the Little Gallery at the City Hall where the paintings of half a dozen prominent California women artists constitute the second exhibit of the year here. Many expressions of admiration came from the large number of citizens who voted there and became interested for the first time in the city's art showings.

Among the pictures of the exhibit are several that strike the eye for their original motif or treatment. "Autumn," is one of two oils by Miss Ferguson that gives the appearance of being done in colored pencils. Ethel Pletsch has five portraits including one of a Dutch subject, one of a Japanese, and one of a Mexican, "Maria."

Miss Force's "Carmel Valley" is a good landscape. Two canvasses, "Verdugo Hills" and "Nature's Palette in Fall," by Collet Wagner are Southern California scenes, as is "Palm Springs" by Nellie Ziegler. Miss Wurtel's "Float at Gloucester" is sure to attract attention. Florence Young has two varied pictures in "Chinatown" and "The Landing Place." Alice Ring's "Reflections" is also a nicely executed piece of work.

Funeral Services Are Held Here For Mrs S R G Twycross

The community was saddened on Friday morning by the passing of Mrs. Charlotte Lucy Twycross, wife of Samuel R. G. Twycross, at her home, 139 South Baldwin avenue, following a long illness.

Mrs. Twycross was born 64 years ago in Portland, Maine, and during her residence of over 16 years in Sierra Madre had endeared herself to all who knew her.

Besides her husband she leaves a sister, Mrs. Helen Hammond of South Pasadena; a sister, Mrs. Belle Gardner of Portland, Maine; a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Convers L. Twycross, and two grandchildren, Randolph and Richard, of Sierra Madre.

Services were held on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Grant Funeral Parlor, 201 West Central avenue, with Rev. Arthur O. Pritchard, officiating. Mrs. D. C. Ashmore, soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Myrtle G. Hill, rendered two selections, "Jesus Lover of My Soul" and "Rock of Ages." Pall bearers were F. H. Hartman, R. S. Corlett, E. D. Burbank, J. C. Dickson, Alvin Langley and Arthur Johnson III.

Interment took place in Forest Lawn.
